Never A Doubt About Use Of 5-Acre Plot As Cemetery

Kittridge Wing, superintendent of the Gettysburg Battlefield, today said, "There never has been any doubt about the government using the recently acquired five acres of land for burial purposes. It is merely a matter of completing the landscaping and burial plans. The government never intended to use the land which was donated for any other purpose."

"The Congress passed a resolution designating the use of the five acres for burial purposes in 1948. The money was not made available but the intent of the Congress as stated in the measure was that if and when the land was acquired, whether by U.S. purchase or donated, it would be used for burial purposes."

Wing's statement was prompted by a resolution presented in the state House of Representatives by Assemblyman Francis Worley urging the Department of the Interior to annex the plot to the National Cemetery for burial purposes. Worley said he was asked to introduce the resolution by a veterans' group.

WORKING ON PLANS

Wing added that the National Park Service is working on the plans for the new plot and as soon as they are completed and the money made available work on landscaping, etc., will be started.

"Should we find it necessary to bury veterans in the new area before the money is made available we will do so," Mr. Wing said. "However, we do not anticipate that problem, but we are prepared to act if necessary."

The superintendent said the Park Service would like to erect a stone wall around the five acres but that the cost at this time is prohibitive. He said he did not know whether an iron fence would be placed around the plot.

WILL OBSERVE VALLEY HOME DAY APRIL 3

Valley Home Day at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, will be held Saturday for parents of Juniors and Sophomores. The occasion highlights the presentation of school rings to the Junior Class and school blazers to the Sophomores. The ceremonies, originally part of the long Valley Home Weekend held annually in the fall of the year, have since 1964 been observed in the spring due to the increased enrollment of the past few years. The college administrators feel, by isolating the ceremonies from the fall convocation which traditionally stresses the final days of the Senior Class, that the Juniors and Sophomores are accorded the time for proper emphasis of their achievements and responsibilities.

OPEN WITH MASS

Rev. Martin J. Sleasman C.M., college chaplain, will open the day's program with Mass at 11 o'clock in the college chapel. A parent-daughter luncheon follows in DuBois Hall.

Presentation ceremonies will take place in the afternoon in DePaul Auditorium. Constance Spanarelli of Rutherford, N. J., Sophomore class president, will welcome the parents, and Joan Crowe of Woodridge, N. J., Sophomore vice-president, will explain the significance of the blazer. Singing of the class song will close the Sophomores' part of the activities.

Brenda Nalley, Port Tobacco, Md., Junior Class president, will offer the Juniors' welcome, and Rose Serio, Baltimore, Junior vice-president, will comment on the tradition of the onyx and gold ring. Sister Rosemary, president of the college, will make the presentations and close the ceremony with a brief address.

Recover Only 36 Of The Hundreds Of Bodies Lost In Terrifying Earthquake

By JOSEPH L. BENHAM
EL COBRE, Chile (AP) —

Thirty-six bodies have been recovered from the mud of El Cobre, and police doubt that many more of the hundreds buried here will be found. The death toll from the quake that shook Chile Sunday appeared to be about 400.

The U.S. Embassy in Santiago and the government said they knew of no Americans killed or injured in the disaster.

More earth tremors were felt Monday, but no new casualties or damage were reported.

BURST HUGE DAM

Most of the dead were at El Cobre, 80 miles north of Santiago, where the quake burst a 230-foot-high dam of rock and mud and unleashed two million tons of rubble on the mining village below. Only a handful of the 400 inhabitants survived. "It was like a gigantic wave, more than 100 feet high, made of sand, mud and water," said

CONEWAGO'S ANNEXATION MOVE OPPOSED

Adams County and Conewago Twp. officials Monday outlined a special three-man board of commissioners in the courthouse here their objections to the annexation of 307 acres of land in Conewago Twp. to the borough of Hanover.

While Conewago Twp. will be the most seriously affected should the proposed annexation be approved by the Adams County court, all three Adams County commissioners, Atlee F. Rebert, Harrison G. Fair and G. Edwin Motter testified the proposed annexation would also cause additional expense and difficulties for the county itself should it be approved.

The commissioners were the last witnesses to appear during the two days of testimony before the commission comprised of Attorney S. M. Raffensperger, John K. Lott and Cameron Garretson. The commission will now make its findings of fact for presentation to the county court.

MANY COMPLICATIONS

The commissioners opposed the plan because of the "difficulties that will be brought about by the irregular boundaries of the proposed land to be annexed," Rebert said. He said the county will "have to send a man there to determine who lives in the annexed area, and who does not. It will have to set up a special election district for the area, probably to be known as Hanover, Adams County, and there will be problems involved in tax collection. There probably will have to be a separate tax collector for the district. All of this will add expense to the county."

Attorney Donald E. Albright, representing Hanover, argued that "there would be no need for a new election district and payment of election officials, it's just a question of a few ballots."

The commissioners noted that the people in the annexed area would be voting for Hanover borough officials and for Ad-

SLAYER'S PLEA FOR WRIT HERE IS DISMISSED

The Adams County court has handed down an opinion dismissing the petition for a writ of habeas corpus brought by Francis N. Light, formerly of Hanover, now serving a 10-to-20-year sentence in the state penitentiary at Rockview for the 1958 slaying of his wife.

The court's 10-page opinion lists the allegations of Light that his constitutional rights were violated when he was arrested on July 7, 1958. The opinion then lists testimony showing the facts were incorrect, or that they did not constitute an infringement of constitutional rights as outlined in prior court cases.

Light was found guilty in Adams County court of second-degree murder September 10, 1958. Since that time he has filed two applications with the board of pardons for commutation of sentence, in 1961 and 1964, both of which were refused. He also filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus in Adams County court which was dismissed July 21, 1962. He appealed that dismissal to the Supreme Court which, on July 7, 1964, confirmed the decision of the county court. In 1963 he also made an appeal to the county court that the case be stricken from the records, which was refused.

The court noted that, while Light

Borough Police Discover Blaze

Gettysburg firemen were summoned this morning at 3:22 when borough policemen discovered a garage on fire at the rear of 146 York St.

The police, on their regular tour of the community noted flames leaping up the side of the garage and by radio directed that the siren be sounded. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze which they said was on the paper siding of the private garage. Firemen praised the police for finding and quickly reporting the fire, holding that in a few more minutes the fire might have gone out of control and spread to other sheds and garages along the alley.

Borough Fire Marshal Donald Jacobs and Police Sgt. Daniel P. Miller later this morning conducted an investigation at the three-car garage owned by William Scott. They said the fire appeared to have been started either by cigarettes or matches.

TANKS EMPTY, DERELICT JET HITS MOUNTAIN

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — An Air Force jet plane finally ran out of fuel and crashed 75 minutes after its pilot bailed out Monday.

The $2-million F102 fighter-interceptor, an 800 m.p.h. delta wing craft, came down in hilly terrain northeast of Stockton, Mo., a mile from the nearest farmhouse.

That is about 75 miles south-east of Richards-Gebar Air Force Base where Maj. Donald Felty had taken off in the unarmed plane on a routine training flight.

CONTROLS FAILED

Felty said the hydraulic system failed and he couldn't control the aircraft so he bailed out at 12,000 feet about 50 miles south of the base. Felty was bruised and shaken up.

To his amazement the plane stayed in the air and became a menace as it wandered hundreds of miles over western Missouri.

Four other fighter pilots, directed by radar, caught up with the unmanned plane and took turns riding herd on it.

When it headed for Sedalia, then Kansas City, then Springfield, and Kansas City again they flew alongside, creating air turbulence that made the plane turn. Its altitude ranged from 6,000 to 18,000 feet. Finally, out of fuel, the jet nosed over into clouds at 4,000 feet.

WOULD LABEL CIGARETTES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The sale of cigarettes would be banned in Pennsylvania unless labeled as a threat to health, under legislation now before the house.

Other bills introduced in the house would: —Exempt Pennsylvanians 65 years of age and over from the $3.20 fee for a hunting license. —Require enforcement officers of the State Liquor Control Board to retire at the age of 60.

—Appropriate $120,000 for maintenance of the Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture at Doylestown during fiscal 1965-66.

MacAskill, pastor of the church, will preside.

Dr. Myers will speak on the Dead Sea scrolls and other archaeological discoveries in the Holy Land. His talk will be illustrated with slides and will outline his experiences on a recent trip when he revisited the Holy Land.

The speaker is one of the outstanding Old Testament authorities in the country and has assisted with the editing of several important publications in the theological field. Dr. Myers' latest editorial endeavor has been in the publication of the Anchor Bible, a 38-volume translation from original sources which is the work of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish scholars. Four of the volumes have been published by Doubleday and Co.

The Gettysburg theologian has been a member of the staff at the seminary since 1937 when he was a lecturer in New Testament. In 1940 he became an instructor in Old Testament and in 1942 was named to his present post.

MAYORS VISIT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayors of 114 American cities bring their problems — and most of them bring their wives — to the nation's capital today. They take their problems to a session with key government officials. They take their wives to a White House reception and dinner.

Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, designated by President Johnson as the administration's liaison man for cities, was to meet with the mayors at mid-afternoon in a downtown hotel. In remarks prepared for the meeting, Humphrey said it is one "in a series of many, many conferences I plan to hold with the mayors and county officials of this nation."

As a former mayor of Minneapolis, the vice-president said he knew "this nation is facing urban problems never dreamed of only 25 years ago."

These, he said, included "the problems of urban blight, the explosive growth in our population creating unprecedented demands for housing, the challenge of upgrading our educational system and expanding it to reach our full potential, and the need to make our urban places more beautiful."

PRIEST SLAYER WILL BE FREED

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — After serving 43 years behind bars for the kidnap-killing of a priest, William Hightower is to be paroled under supervision for the rest of his life.

Hightower, 86, who has spent the latter part of his imprisonment in the minimum security California Men's Colony, will be freed May 18 to live in Los Angeles.

He was convicted of the murder of Father Patrick Heslin of Colma, Calif., and sentenced to life in prison in 1921. He was sent to San Quentin.

The white-haired old man will live in "Halfway House," run by a private social agency. "The home is a kind of bridge between prison and the outside world," a prison official said.

TAYLOR REFUSES BOMB COMMENTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Withholding public comment on the bomb explosion at the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor continues talks with top administration officials today amid speculation he favors sending more U.S. forces into Viet Nam.

A spokesman said Monday night the ambassador was notified shortly after a big bomb exploded in front of the embassy, causing scores of casualties. Except for brief remarks on his arrival Sunday, Taylor has not talked with newsmen since returning for what were described as "routine" consultations.

He held conferences Monday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff. No announcement has been made of a meeting with President Johnson.

G. E. HEISS IS WED SATURDAY

Miss Goldie I. Eckert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Eckert, Lebanon R. 5, Saturday became the bride of Curvin E. Heiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curvin H. Heiss, 17 Fifth St. at the Lutheran Church in Lebanon.

The couple, following a wedding tour to southern Civil War battlefields, will reside near the Veterans Administration Hospital in Lebanon where Mr. Heiss is employed.

Heiss assisted his father in the construction of the Diorama here, and with his father installed the statues in the Hall of Presidents here. He assisted his father in the construction of the dioramas in the Lincoln Room museum and assisted for a time in its management. He and his father also constructed the dioramas in the Gun Fighter Museum along the Lincoln Highway east of here.

For a year he was engaged as a quick draw gunfighter at Frontiertown in Ocean City. He served for two years as an artilleryman in the U. S. Army, at Fort Dix, N. J.; Fort Sill, Oklahoma and Fort Bragg, N. C.

SLAYER'S PLEA

(Continued From Page 1) had alleged that he was not warned by police of his constitutional right to counsel and right to remain silent while being questioned, he admitted at the hearing that he believed Cpl. Leon Leiter, first state policeman to talk to him after his wife's stabbed body was found in the trunk of a car near Hanover, had in fact advised him of his rights to remain silent and have counsel.

Light had alleged that his rights had been violated because he was questioned by the coroner and members of the coroner's jury when he was without counsel and that his statements there were used against him at the trial. The court noted: "This allegation is false in two aspects. First the relator admits that he was not questioned by the coroner or by members of the coroner's jury and second no testimony was given at the trial of any statements alleged to have been made by him before the coroner."

Light alleged that he was not informed of his right to appeal after the jury had reached its verdict. Attorney Eugene Hartman, who represented Light at the trial by court appointment, held he had discussed an appeal with Light at the time but Light seemed satisfied with the verdict. The court, which had noted that Light had admitted to the acts which caused his wife's death, held: "It is possible that the relator in his elation over having just gone through a trial for murder in which he fortunately was convicted of only second degree murder did not comprehend what counsel told him."

Dr. Raymond Hale, Arendtsville, left this morning to attend the meeting of the Philadelphia County Medical Society being held this week at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia.

Walker Will Try Again For House

LONDON (AP) — Patrick Gordon Walker, Britain's 98-day foreign secretary, is going to try once more to get back into the House of Commons. But not until the next general election.

The Labor party in the London suburb of Leyton chose Gordon Walker, 57, Monday night to be its candidate when Prime Minister Harold Wilson calls a nationwide election.

In the October general election, Gordon Walker lost the Smithwick seat he had held for 19 years.

He resigned from the Cabinet on Jan. 22 after losing in a second try for the seat.

Congolese Delay Leopoldville Vote

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — After two days of chaos, the Congolese government today postponed voting in Leopoldville "until a later date."

Only a few thousand of the Congolese capital's nearly half a million electors were able to vote in the first national elections since independence in 1960. An administrative mess kept the rest standing in the steaming hot sun Sunday and Monday.

Several election officials were arrested and accused of maladministration.

House Group Will Conduct Probe Of KKK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities voted unanimously today to conduct a searching investigation into the activities of the Ku Klux Klan.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the committee's preliminary study indicated "that shocking crimes are carried out by highly secret action groups within the klans."

These groups, Willis said, are known as "knockoff squads" or "holy terrors."

PROBE OTHER OUTFITS

Willis also announced that the committee had instructed him to go on with his preliminary inquiry into activities of the Black Muslims, the American Nazi party and the Minute Men.

The committee said its decision to throw the full light of a congressional investigation of the Klan was based on three factors:

—Its staff's preliminary study "clearly indicated the Klan activities are such that investigation is called for."

—Statements by federal officials indicating that Klan members have been involved "in a number of recent murders and other unconstitutional acts of violence and terrorism."

President Johnson's appeal last Friday in which "he indicated support for congressional investigation of the klans as an aid to enactment of remedial legislation."

Willis had called the committee into closed session today, acting, as he said, "as soon as possible" after Johnson suggested an investigation.

Members of the faculty of the Franklin Institute will present the program, one of a series of mobile educational units traveling through the state. It will be adapted to the teaching of science in Grades Five and Six with pupils from the Harrisburg city schools participating.

Local educators will have an opportunity to evaluate the program for possible future use in county schools.

TRADING SLACK

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails and airlines were gainers as the stock market rose early this afternoon in slack trading.

Some of the merger candidates among rails, down on profit taking, recovered part of their losses.

Airlines made a moderate rally. Eastern seemed helped by government approval of cut-rate off-season group fares between East Coast cities.

Big Three motors posted gains after an uncertain start. Steels were unchanged to a shade higher, also improving their early showing.

center plot with a brick structure in the center on which were placed drinking fountains. Concrete walks led to the center of circle and there was a sidewalk around the outside of the circle.

"There were benches there and a great many people enjoying walking out into the center plot on a warm summer evening to watch the people and traffic. Today it would be suicide to try to get through the traffic to the center plot."

Weaver said the center plot has been reduced in size twice, and "I would like to see us remove the centerplot and make the square like the one York installed. I think they did a beautiful job."

Weaver praised Martin Winters, developer of the Broadway area among other sections of the town, as "one of the most farseeing developers any town ever had."

NINE HOTELS HERE

He described the many streets that have been established since his first recollections as a child in the early 1900's, and recalling the first paving of the streets in the borough said: "The only time I ever was in court as a witness was when people on Hanover St. went into court because they refused to pay for the paving of the street in front of their property. I was borough treasurer and I had to testify as to the bills and who had paid. At that time when the streets were paved people had to pay the cost in front of their property out to the center of the street."

He recalled he "Kurtz playground" and the time when there were nine hotels in Gettysburg, each with a hack at the railroad station to take tourists to the hotel. Past President John A. MacPhail presided at the meeting.

Dr. Richard Newsham, for the nominating committee, listed the following slate of directors: Stanley Hull, Melvin Sargeant, Frank Ruth, C. William Harbaugh, G. Henry Roth, Gerald Hagmayer, Dr. James Oyler, John Reimer and H. W. Baker.

ams County officials, while the remainder of Conewago Twp. residents would be voting for Conewago Twp. officials and the Adams County officials. The commissioners claimed it would be "an impossible task" for one of the Conewago Twp. election boards to try to determine who should receive Hanover ballots and who Conewago Twp. and the only way it could be handled would be by erection of a separate voting district.

OPPOSED BY SUPERVISORS

The commissioners also said they felt inclusion of 250 acres of farm land in the proposed annexation "is unreasonable and arbitrary."

Henry W. Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors of Conewago Twp., and other township officials testified the proposed annexation would be detrimental to the township. Charles Doll, chairman of the Conewago Twp. Sewer Authority, said the annexation would also be detrimental to plans to provide sewer services to the Midway area of the township because it would cut off potential customers.

Smith outlined the boundaries of the proposed annexation noting that 250 acres of the proposed 307 in the annexation "are farm land, just like other farms all around." He pointed out that the proposed annexation to the borough would "take the properties which pay the taxes and leave the alleys to us to maintain and no way to get any taxes on them."

RECEIVE PETITION

Smith said the proposed annexation would "change everything around on our sewer program and make a bigger burden on the rest of Midway." Smith said the proposed annexation will probably "force us to raise taxes on the people in the rest of the township because we'll still have to give the same services but we'll be losing people who help pay for them."

A petition signed by 23 persons in the area stressing their intention to oppose the annexation was presented to the board.

Doll said installation of the proposed sewer system by the township is being held up by the proposed annexation and also by efforts to secure a lower rate from Hanover for the cost of treatment of the sewage. He said the town plans to charge the township $32 per year per customer for putting the township's sewage through the Hanover treatment plant. He said bond counsel said this was too high.

CITES FIRE PROTECTION

Doll also testified to the equipment and abilities of the Midway firemen which serve the area. Proponents of the annexation had held the area would receive better fire protection from Hanover. Doll noted that Midway has proved its abilities at various fires and has equipment worth $75,000. "We have no fire problems here."

Conewago Twp. Policeman Thomas Carbaugh said that Hanover police will have additional problems in the annexed area because it will be in Adams County rather than York, and because "they will have to know just where they are at all times, because they won't be able to make an arrest in the township, and I'll have the same problem."

Carbaugh admitted that he holds a part-time job in addition to his full-time duties as policeman, but he held, "If that is an argument, then it must be noted that some of the Hanover police also have part-time jobs."

GIVEN FIGURES

It was testified that Carbaugh is unique in Adams County in that he is the only full-time policeman in any township.

William Stees, engineer for the township and sewer authority, said the township will lose 58 customers "and a lot of potential customers" for its proposed sewer lines if the area proposed to be annexed is lost to the township, and longer trunk lines will be required to get the sewage to the plant. Stees said the township would lose 124 taxables for per capita if the area is annexed. He also said the township will lose $6,631.57 in state aid and $1,913.63 in county aid if it loses the people and the 1.39 mile of street in the proposed area. The township now has 3,004 population and 11.71 miles of streets and roads.

Steas gave a "tentative breakdown" of the costs of the proposed Conewago Twp. sewer system. He said the total bond issue would be about $385,000. To operate the system, and pay off the bonds would cost $29,315 per year. Cost of the system operation for the township would be $52 per year for each of the 384 dwellings, plus apartments, industries, etc., which bring the total to 459 hooking into the sewer. In addition there would be the charge from Hanover which he said he understood has been listed as $32 a year, but which is under negotiation. He said that a "tap on" fee is also contemplated for the system and a figure of "about $75" is being considered.

INSTALL OFFICERS

Richard Selby, Littlestown, national director for Area IV of the Jaycees, installed the new officers of the Upper Adams group. "TIME TO DO MORE"

Raudabaugh, installed as the chapter's third president, said: "The time has come to do more in support of our community."

"We have just completed a community survey, and the results are now being tallied. This will tell us the needs of our community. The coming year should be devoted to meeting these needs."

Officers of the Jayettes were installed by Retiring President Reid. They include: Mrs. Carol Reed, president; Mrs. Betty Kint, vice-president; Mrs. Freda Zeigler, secretary; Mrs. Sandra Pyles, treasurer and Mrs. Jane Baker, director.

GOUKER SPEAKS

A number of certificates of appreciation were given to those who assisted the Jaycees in various projects during the year. Among the certificates awarded were those to Clifford Bucher, Ronald Grim and Thomas Motter for assistance in the Christmas tree sales; M. L. Ditzler, for assistance in an auction; Taylor Brothers Grocery for assistance in the Thanksgiving for the Needy program; Clyde Sell for assistance in a car program; Rev. Norman Wilson for serving as master of ceremonies in the "Learn the Score for '64 Program" and Arthur Gordon for serving as moderator for the "Learn the Score" program.

Two of the mayors in the Upper Adams area were introduced along with their wives, Roy Starner of Bendersville and Mark Hinkle of York Springs. Abram M. Shenk, chaplain for the Jaycees, gave the invocation and benediction.

Grover Gouker, Hanover, past state Junior Chamber president, past National Jaycee vice-president and a Junior Chamber International senator, was the principal speaker. No longer an active Jaycee, having passed the "cut off age" of 36, Gouker said: "You do not throw off the Jaycee ideals when you reach the age when you must retire from it. Being a Jaycee is a way of life."

CLUB TOLD OF BICENTENNIAL

Marvin F. Breighner, president of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, and cochairman with J. Arthur Boyd of the bicentennial committee of Littlestown, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the local Kiwanis Club Monday evening in the Holiday Inn.

Breighner recounted for the Kiwanians the history of the settlement of Littlestown and outlined the activities planned for the bicentennial celebration, to be held the first week in August.

Approximately 400 individuals are involved in planning for the celebration, Breighner said, and they are working with a $13,000 budget. Two purposes behind the planned celebration, he added, are "to celebrate their heritage and to uncover new civic leaders."

"Littlestown was founded in 1765 by Peter Little, whose motto was dealing fairly with all men. Some people live off a community, some live in it and some live for it. No one can afford the luxury of sitting back and clipping coupons on the investment their ancestor made."

At the monthly board meeting, the directors voted to accept Nick Lammando as a new member of the club.

Western Maryland May Close Station

The Western Maryland Railroad has applied to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission for a hearing to close the railroad station in New Oxford.

Long a landmark in New Oxford, the Western Maryland station has been used over the past years as a freight station and some years ago it also served passengers.

According to a notice posted at the station, the railroad intends to discontinue the freight service in New Oxford and transfer it to Hanover.

Businesses will be served from the Hanover freight depot if the station is closed, thus preventing any extreme handicap of prompt delivery of freight.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

With no less than forty dozens of eggs falling by pairs, dozens and scores from the wagon to which two horses were hitched, a team of Henry Plank ran away from the farm of C. W. Fair, Freedom township, on Monday. The horses started when their owner was away from the place and continued on home.

The Gettysburg Choral Society is ready for its first concert which will be given Friday evening in Brue Chapel. From the sale of tickets it is likely that a large audience will greet the singers who have been practicing faithfully for several months under the capable direction of Mrs. J. B. Baker. A most attractive program has been arranged, including a number of choruses by the society, solos by W. R. Sammel, Miss Pauline Rudisill, Mrs. M. K. Eckert and Gilbert Becker; several other vocal numbers for women's voices and a concerto for two pianos by Mrs. Baker and Miss Lohr. The membership of the society includes the following well known people of town and the college: Sopranos, M. Isabelle Daniels, Mrs. M. K. Eckert, Mrs. William Gilbert, Anna Hollebaugh, Mrs. Richard S. Kirby, Mary Kohler, Elsie Little, Maybelle Little, Emily McDonnell, Mrs. E. H. Markley, Alice Miller, Maude Miller, Reba Miller, Mrs. J. A. A. Dale, Esq., Bellefonte, will deliver the Memorial Day Address in the Soldiers' National Cemetery at Gettysburg this year. Alfred A. Dale is well known in Gettysburg. He is a graduate of the college in 1874 and has a number of friends and acquaintances here who will be glad to know that he has been secured. He is one of the best known attorneys in Central Pennsylvania and is in more or less frequent demand as a speaker on public occasions. He was highly recommended to the Grand Army men of this place as a suitable speaker for this year's exercises.

"Hotel de Gink", as the scores of tramps coming through Gettysburg daily have come to call the contagious disease building at the Adams County Home, had six lodgers Sunday night who sought refuge from the chill winds and were given supper and breakfast. The past few months have seen more than usual of these wanderers at the little building to the east of the Harrisburg road, and present indications are that the number will exceed even that of last year when more than 1,800 were given accommodations. Callers at Steward Shady's "inn" are given for their meals what is left after the regular inmates at the County Home have been

Today's Talk

THE SILENCE OF COLOR
One of the most amazing things in nature is its display of color — in its trees, stones, flowers, birds, animals, fruits, and indeed about everything that our eyes meet. There is color everywhere and all silent. Yet that silence has a language. Color presents the greatest sales and attention appeal of anything in this world. It is ever at work, in clothing, book jackets, illustrations in books and magazines, rugs, furniture, and in fact about everywhere. This would be a drab world without any color to it.

What magic in the rising and setting of the sun, in the floating of cloud formations, and in the quick appearance of the rainbow, after, or during a light summer rain. The strutting peacock knows the value of color, and so makes the most of his gorgeous plumage before his lady friends! Color does something spiritually to us all. With what emotion we view a great painting with its imperishable colorings.

One can never read a description of the Grand Canyon of Arizona that does it justice. The coloring is something that remains hidden within one's heart as one looks upon it. Like the blooming of the wonderful magnolia gardens at Charleston, S. C., there is something "unearthly" about them both. Color has a greater influence upon all of us than we suspect. It is felt at once upon entering a beautiful garden, home, or public building. There are colors that thrill and dance, like invisible figures, and there are those that warm us the moment we come in contact with them. There are even those that are cold and which chill us.

The color of the sky, of the sea in heavy action, and the silent beauty of reflected stars, dancing upon a body of water at midnight, each is an essay in itself, to be cherished and remembered. How silent and thoughtful, each one of us becomes, when in the midst of a beautiful garden, or when driving through a colorful country, rich in scenic beauty! Color is always stimulating to the mind. It puts cheer there, and drives out moodiness. And it has stimulated and inspired love in man, beast, and bird, as nothing else.

MANY ACHIEVEMENTS
Through his school days, they will tell you, he succeeded as a son;
Pleased his father and his mother when he got his lessons done.
Though his head was full of mischief and a lot of pranks he played,
His record as a brother is as fine as can be made.
He succeeded as a playmate; kept the trust of all he knew;
He succeeded as a cousin and an uncle when he grew.
He succeeded as a husband and a father down the years,
And in all the various duties of man's numerous careers.
He didn't earn a fortune and he lived unknown to fame,
But his children's children loved him when a grandpa he became.
And though simple these successes, when his record here we scan,
He'll be welcomed by the angels for succeeding as a man.

PLAN TO CURB CITY VIOLENCE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police and board of education officials will cooperate in a mass roundup of the city's teen-aged gang members to prevent street violence this summer, County Judge Juanita Kidd Stout says.
At least 1,000 gang members will be arrested and sent to jail by June 1, she said.
The judge, who has been threatened three times by gang members and is under police guard, has written to State Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Phila., asking him to find space for those arrested.

"Philadelphia is engaged in a war to determine whether or not the city will become a gangland," she wrote Mullen. "The situation is already unbelievable, with teen-age shootings and stabbings almost too numerous to mention."
She said she hopes to rehabilitate some of the youths who will be imprisoned. She said many teachers have volunteered to supervise and teach the youngsters this summer.

None of the attacking planes was reported hit or shot down. A Vietnamese spokesman said the raid was "very successful" and that the pilots reported 90 per cent of their targets were destroyed.

The spokesman said Dong Hoi has an 1,800-yard runway and a gasoline storage depot. It is about 75 miles north of the 17th Parallel, the border between North and South Viet Nam.

There was no immediate comment from President Johnson or from Ambassador Maxwell Taylor, who was in Washington reporting to the President on the intensifying U.S. military effort against the Communists.

150 IN BUILDING

About 150 embassy personnel and visitors were in the embassy building when the large black sedan turned into a street alongside just before 10:55 a.m.

Most of those at the scene were killed or disabled, but a reconstruction of the attack indicated:

The car stopped and a Vietnamese policeman ordered the driver to move on. The driver said he had engine trouble.

A motorcycle pulled up, the driver leaped from the car onto the seat behind the cyclist and they started off. The policeman fired at the terrorists and was killed as they fired back.

HEARD FOR MILES

Another policeman wounded the motorcycle driver, dropping him to the street. Just then the bomb exploded with a roar heard for miles. The other terrorist and several policemen were killed in the blast.

Everyone in the near by ground-floor consular section of the embassy was wounded to some degree.

Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson was at his desk in his fifth-floor office when the windows shattered. Shivers of glass cut his face. His office furniture was overturned.

IGNORES INJURIES

Johnson ignored his injuries until he had supervised handling of the dead and dispatch of the wounded to hospitals.

One secretary was carried out with a U.S. Army jacket thrown across her face and deeply gashed body. Another had deep wounds in the chest. At least 30 other women suffered facial wounds.

Richard Robertson, a security official, carried his wounded wife from the building.

Another embassy official, Richard Cleveland of Wayne, Pa., said everyone in the office of Robert Miller, deputy chief of the embassy's political section, appeared injured. Miller was cut about the face and body. American servicemen ran to

MAY BE YEAR BEFORE ICC'S RR DECISION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although Interstate Commerce Commission examiners have recommended merger of the Central railroads, a final decision may not come for at least one year.

Examiners Henry C. Darmstadter and Jerome K. Lyle approved Monday the application of the two lines to become a 19,631-mile, multi-billion dollar railroad giant called the Pennsylvania-New York Central Company.

It would be the nation's largest rail system.

But a number of steps must take place before the full 11-member ICC can even consider the examiners' recommendations.

The report issued Monday is only a recommendation, and the ICC may—as an extreme example—ignore it entirely. In most merger cases, however, the recommendation has been generally followed.

But Monday's report contained a number of conditions involving other railroads, and it's likely the full commission may decide to alter one or more of them.

The prime reason, however, for speculation that a final report is more than a year off is the size and complexity of the Penn-Central case. Its record is 40,000 pages long, and it contains more economic and legal issues — about 500 — than any case in ICC history.

CHANGE AIR RATES

WASHINGTON (AP)—North-east and Eastern Airlines have been authorized to charge reduced rates for groups of 25 or more, between Miami, Florida, and the three Northeastern area cities.

The reduced rates apply in Philadelphia, New York and Boston, on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, and at a 24 higher rate Mondays and Thursdays, starting April 24.

Golf Was Bigger Lure To Bill March Than Ministry; He Is Pro At "Charnita"

The brother of a former Gettysburg minister has been named golf professional at Charnita Country Club near Fairfield.

Charles G. Rist, owner of the multi-million-dollar resort development, said Wilson "Bill" March, a brother of Rev. Harold V. March, former pastor of the Gettysburg EUB Church, has accepted the top position at the golf course and will supervise the construction of the 18-hole course, which is expected to be completed by spring, 1966.

This is a "coming home" break for March, who was raised in Scotland, Pa., and has many favorite haunts in Adams County. His father, the late Daniel J. March, died in Dillsburg about 20 years ago, while he was serving a pastorate there.

BUILDS HOME HERE

"Bill" March built a home on Keckler's Hill last year in anticipation of "returning home." He had been employed as golf professional at the famous Elkhart Country Club, Elkhart, Ind., for eight years before his resignation to accept the local position.

A former junior high school principal with a master's degree in school administration, March has taken golf matches from such well-known professionals as "Slammin'" Sammy Snead and Ben Hogan. He was the golf pro at the Ft. Wayne, Ind., club, which hosted the Ft. Wayne Open for six years, and it was on this course that he defeated both golfers.

In answer to the exclamations of local golfers, March explains modestly, "Even the good ones have a bad day once in a while."

PASTOR WAS GOLFER

Local residents who knew Rev. March when he served the local pastorate before accepting a charge at New Cumberland will recall his enthusiasm for golf. Another brother, Floyd, now a golf pro and public school teacher, was the pro at the Carlisle Country Club for a number of years before moving to Delray Beach, Fla., a number of years ago.

Tall, lanky, good-natured Bill March recalls his youth in Scotland, "the home of a lot of good athletes," where "we played some kind of sport constantly, mostly because there wasn't anything else to do."

At the age of 10 he was a caddy at the Chambersburg Golf Club, later became a caddy master and eventually assistant pro, a position he held through his undergraduate days at Shippensburg State College. He planned to attend seminary following graduation from college, but was unable to dispel the urge to be a golfer. He had become a professional at the age of 18.

However, "to give education a fair chance," he enrolled in graduate school at the University of Pittsburgh and almost simultaneously accepted the job of pro at the North Hills Club, Pittsburgh. He taught science in the Allison Park Junior High School and was principal for two years. At the same time he was "weekend pro" at two other Pittsburgh clubs, Sunset and Oak Hills. He later decided to give up teaching and worked at clubs in Hastings, Mich.; Toledo, Ohio, and Fort Wayne, Ind., before agreeing to supervise the construction of the Elkhart course and accept the pro position.

Two of the five March brothers are in industry in York and Lancaster. Rev. March suffered a heart attack while he was serving a charge in New Cumberland, which forced his retirement. He has since recovered sufficiently, however, to teach school in Harrisburg and continue to serve as a supply minister in Dauphin and York Counties.

ANXIOUS TO START

Of his new position, March says he is anxious for the weather to clear so that construction can get underway at the Charnita course. He will work with architects and engineers in the construction "to try to make this finest course in the east," he says.

"Incidentally," he adds, "we expect to have many of the top name pros playing at Charnita within the next few years." The course is expected to be completed for the 1966 golfing season.

He is a member of the Professional Golfers Association, the Golf Course Superintendents' Association of America, the Masons and the Elks. His wife, Vivian, a registered nurse, is a native of Mercersburg. They have no children.

LOTS OF TALKS ABOUT KAYOES FOR TONIGHT

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — If boxing championships changed hands through the force of words rather than fists, welterweight champion Emile Griffith and light-heavy king Willie Pastrano would have reason to be a little shaky in their double title defense tonight at Madison Square Garden.

"He has what I want, and it's up to me to get it," says 24-year-old Jose Stable, a Cuban-born New Yorker who is gunning for Griffith's 147-pound crown.

"I'm going to knock out Pastrano somewhere between the seventh and 10th rounds," booms Jose Torres, a Puerto Rican knockout specialist who hopes his brutal power can wreck Willie's boxing brilliance.

Despite these crackling words from a pair of hungry challengers, Griffith and Pastrano remain the betting favorites in the twinheader which is expected to produce the biggest gate ever at the musty, tradition-rich Garden.

Griffith, a lean, good-looking athlete who has been in 10 previous title fights and who has the distinction of having won the welterweight crown three times, is a solid 11-5 pick over Stable in the first fight, starting at 9:30 p.m. EST.

Pastrano, 29, who is hardly marked from 13½ years of ring fighting, is a closer pick — just 6-5 — over Torres, who hits with the devastating power of a sledge hammer.

If the first fight goes the limit, the second one won't start before around 10:45 p.m. and the expected sellout crowd of 18,400, paying a possible record $250,000, may not file out of the place until well after midnight.

The two 15-round bouts will be seen on closed-circuit television at 86 locations throughout the United States and Canada.

SPEEDWAY TO GIVE AWARDS

The Lincoln Speedway's 12th annual award dinner and dance will be held Saturday at the Adams County Fairgrounds near Abbotstown.

A buffet dinner featuring barbecued chicken, will be served from 6 to 8:30 p.m. A separate building will be utilized for dining, another for the award presentations and dancing.

Twenty of the top sportsman-modified drivers and car owners will receive awards and trophies. The top 20 of the late model owners and drivers will be honored. In addition many special awards to mechanics and other deserving race people will be presented.

Promoter Hilly Rife has announced the opening date of the Lincoln Speedway as Saturday night April 24. Three types of race machines will be eligible to compete, modified-sportsman and semi-late models.

Peking Claims Air County In V. Nam

TOKYO (AP) — Peking radio claimed five U.S. and South Vietnamese planes were shot down today in an air strike in North Viet Nam.

The broadcast said many others were damaged by North Vietnamese army units in the raid over Dong Hoi.

ASKS INCREASE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has asked congressional authorization of a $200-million increase for the saline water conversion program.

He proposed Monday that the program be extended from 1967 to 1972 and that spending be hiked from $75 million to $275 million.

New Member Will Be Chosen April 12 By Blue Mountain; Approve Jayvee Grid League

Unable to reach agreement on the admission of a new school at their spring meeting Monday at Camp Hill High School, the Blue Mountain League officials decided to hold a special meeting Monday, April 12, at the same school to make a final decision.

Bermudian Springs, Littlestown and Scotland have filed requests for admission and one will be selected to replace Newport.

Formal approval was given to the withdrawal of Newport effective July 1, 1966. The Buffaloes will participate next season after which the new member will take over.

A seven-member junior varsity football league was approved by the league and will start in 1966. Schools entering include Gettysburg, Boiling Springs, Big Spring, Camp Hill, Northern, Shippensburg and Susquehanna.

ADD TRACK EVENT

It was decided the two-mile run will be added this spring for all dual track meets as well as the conference meet to be held at East Pennsboro Saturday, May 8. Trials for the conference meet will start at 10 a.m. with the finals beginning at 1 p.m.

William Smith, principal at Susquehanna, was named president of the league for the 1965-66 term and Robert Bostic, Northern, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Championship trophies were presented the following schools: Shippensburg, basketball; Newport, wrestling, and East Pennsboro, girls' basketball.

Approval was given to schedules for 1966.

FAVOR YANKS TO TAKE FLAG; 6TH STRAIGHT

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1965 American League baseball season opens April 12 with the New York Yankees favored — by little more than their margin of victory last year — to capture an unprecedented sixth straight pennant.

The Yankees rushed past Baltimore and Chicago in the final month of the 1964 campaign and clinched the flag on the next-to-last day, finishing one game in front of the White Sox.

Chicago, no longer a "powder puff" outfit according to ever-confident Manager Al Lopez, hopes to make up that single length this year against a Yankee club with a new pilot — Johnny Keane — and the same old question marks — Mickey Mantle's legs, Whitey Ford's left arm and secondary pitching.

The Orioles, led by 1964 MVP Brooks Robinson, appear to have the balance, the Detroit Tigers and Minnesota Twins the power to challenge New York's five-year reign.

Cleveland, recharged by the return of Rocky Colavito and the addition of Chuck Hinton, and the Los Angeles Angels, with an impressive young pitching corps headed by Cy Young Award-winning Dean Chance, also are expected to be factors.

Boston, Washington and Kansas City, though somewhat strengthened through winter trades, seem destined to bring up the rear again.

The Yankees' regular line-up appears solid — wherever Mantle plays, so long as he plays — and so does the front-line pitching if Ford is sound after his arm operation.

If Ford falters, however, Keane will have to seek help from a mediocre bullpen. If neither Ford nor Mantle holds up physically, Chicago's Lopez may make good on his annual prediction — "the Yankees can be taken this year" — for the first time since his White Sox turned the trick in 1959.

Lopez' current hopes ride on a pitching staff considered the best in the league and the added power supplied by Bill Skowron and John Romano, neither of whom was with the club last spring.

OTHER TALENT TOO

Baltimore, with Robinson anchoring a solid infield and big Boog Powell powering the attack, can improve on its third-place finish if 19-game winner Wally Bunker beats the sophomore jinx and veteran left-hander Steve Barber comes back after an off-season.

Detroit has an outstanding outfield in Al Kaline, Don Demeter and Gates Brown and a top-flight catcher in Bill Freehan. But the pitching is shallow after starters Dave Wickersham and Mickey Lolich.

Minnesota has awesome power and Bob Allison's return to the outfield should improve the Twins' defense. A second baseman who can hit and a relief pitcher would help, too.

Tomorrow: National League.

Harry Jacobs, Shippensburg, retiring president, presided at the meeting.

George Forney, athletic director, and Morris Quint, principal, represented Gettysburg High School at the meeting while Charles Yost, principal, represented Biglerville.

BAVARO'S FOES IN NCAA MEET OUTSTANDING

The following article was written by Jay Hammond, a Junior at Lehigh University and son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hammond, 415 Harrisburg St.:

What kind of wrestlers do you meet when you are trying to win an NCAA wrestling title?

The answer is tough. Gettysburg College's 147-pound grappler Joe Bavaro met four outstanding wrestlers on his way to finishing second in the NCAA mat tourney recently completed in Laramie, Wyo.

Veryl Long, of Iowa State, the man who prevented Bavaro from becoming Gettysburg's first NCAA major college mat champ, is a 28-year-old native of Washington, Pa., and a real veteran. Long was a 1966 Pennsylvania state high school champion while wrestling for Trinity High School, FINE ARMY RECORD

Long joined the Army following graduation from high school and during his hitch placed in both the 1959 Pan American game trials and the 1960 Olympic trials. Following his discharge from the Army, Long enrolled in Iowa State.

As a Sophomore Long won the Big Eight wrestling tournament at 147 and placed third in the NCAA tournament. Last year he took third in the Big Eight and fourth in the NCAA tournament. This season Long posted a 9-1 dual meet record and took second in the Big Eight.

Bavaro's semifinal opponent, Jim Crider of Colorado State College, was a three-time Rocky Mountain Conference champion. Crider captured the Mountain Conference title three times and placed fifth once and sixth twice in the NCAA tourney. Crider claimed an 8-4 decision over Jim Burke of San Francisco State, Olympic team member and World Game medalist, in the NCAA quarterfinals.

Bavaro downed NAIA champion Bill Blacksmith of Lock Haven in his quarterfinal bout. Blacksmith is also a two-time Pennsylvania State College Conference champion.

Bavaro's other opponent, Marc Scureman of Army, is a two-time runnerup in the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association. Scureman posted a 9-1-1 this season losing only to Lehigh's Bill Stuart, NCAA champion at 137.

HITS SLAM AND 2 DOUBLES IN SINGLE INNING

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — If you hit a grand-slam home run and two doubles in a baseball game, you've done a hard day's work. But what about the guy who does all that in one inning?

Allen Trammell, a junior outfielder on the University of Florida baseball team, did all those things and more in a recent game against Kentucky. Folks at Florida claim it's a feat without equal in the history of the game.

The first time Trammell came to bat in the sixth inning, Kentucky was leading 1-0. With men on first and second base, Trammell doubled 340 feet off the left center-field fence to knock in the tying run. He scored a minute later.

HE SCORED 3 RUNS

The next time up in the same inning, Trammell had three men on the bases and he clouted a fast ball 345 feet over the left center-field fence.

Even though it was getting to be monotonous, Trammell, a 5-foot-11, 185-pound halfback borrowed from the football team, doubled 360 feet off the deep center-field fence, scoring a man who was on first. As before, he too scored.

When Kentucky finally got the side out, Trammell had his grand-slam homer, the two doubles, six runs batted in and had scored three runs himself.

FINAL SCORE 25-1

On the strength of Trammell's performance, Florida scored 18 runs in the sixth inning and went on to beat Kentucky 25-1.

Trammell, in Florida's 11 games to date, is batting .512 and has hit safely in 20 straight contests, including the last nine of last season. He batted .370 last year.

Florida has a 9-2 record this year.

HARDBOARD IS PRACTICAL WAY TO RENOVATION

With the big new family of versatile hard wood panels, budget-minded homemakers can now combine glamour with practicality from basement to attic.

For visual interest, the American Hardboard Association suggests that homeowners choose from a wide range of wood-grain finished panels, in walnut, cherry, oak, birch, pecan and other species.

All are grooved for realistic plank effect. Luxurious panels, textured by embossing, also enhance interior decoration with their woven, diamond-like, louvered, wicker or cane patterns and the more familiar striated and corrugated surfaces.

Other embossed hardboards look and feel like burlap or travertine marble.

BOARD IS TOUGH

Designed primarily for accent use, they can be used for the entire room. Die perforated hardboard in lacy filigree patterns is also usable for room dividers, window shutters or radiator covers. Easily painted the grillwork patterns add beauty to any decorative theme.

Because hardboard is tough it is the ideal wood panel product for children's rooms, family room or other hard-use areas, particularly laundry rooms where high humidity can play havoc with paneling.

Now available in several wood grain finishes, familiar perforated hardboard paneling adds beauty too, in the home areas previously used only for utilitarian purposes. Hard to dent, easy to clean with the wipe of a damp cloth or sponge, hardboard's beauty is truly practical.

Versatile hardboard is ideal for weekend do-it-yourself projects. Finishing ideal space found in attics, basements, porches or garages for better appearance and greater function can be done with a modest expenditure for materials. Hardboard panels are practical for the apartment-dweller or house-renter to install, too, because of their economy and ease of installation.

Doing the job with husband power is a further economy, if he is even the least bit able to wield hammer and saw, for hardboard can be worked with the usual carpentry tools.

The use of hardboard paneling in your home is limited only by the imagination of the homeowner. The large variety of panels makes the choice easy for hardboard is "at home" in any decor.

WALL FIXTURES BACK IN VOGUE

A lighting device that goes as far back as the cave dweller is the wall fixture.

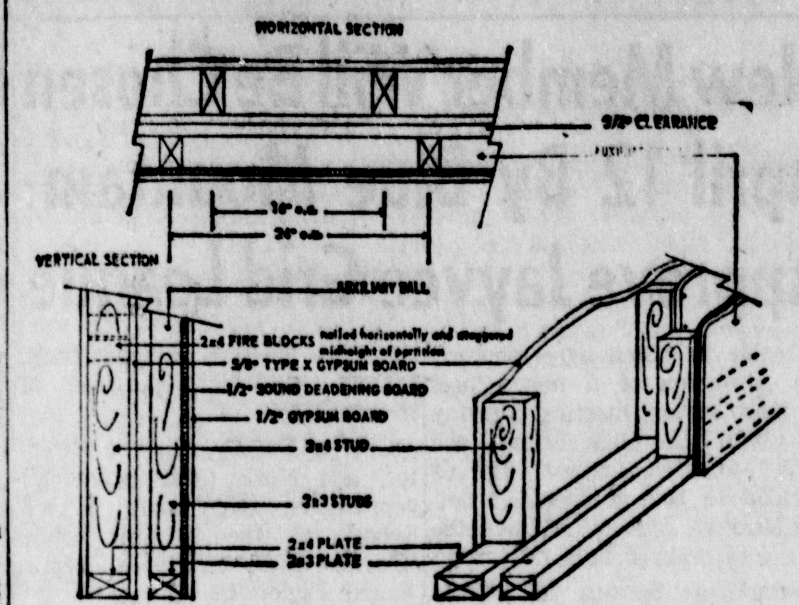

Out of vogue in decorating schemes for some time now, wall fixtures, particularly sconces or ornamental candleholders, are once again enjoying acceptance.

Of the ones made in Italy, the designs are inspired from numerous sources in addition to those inherently Italian. Sconces are historically meant to hold candles, but most nowadays are ready for electrical use.

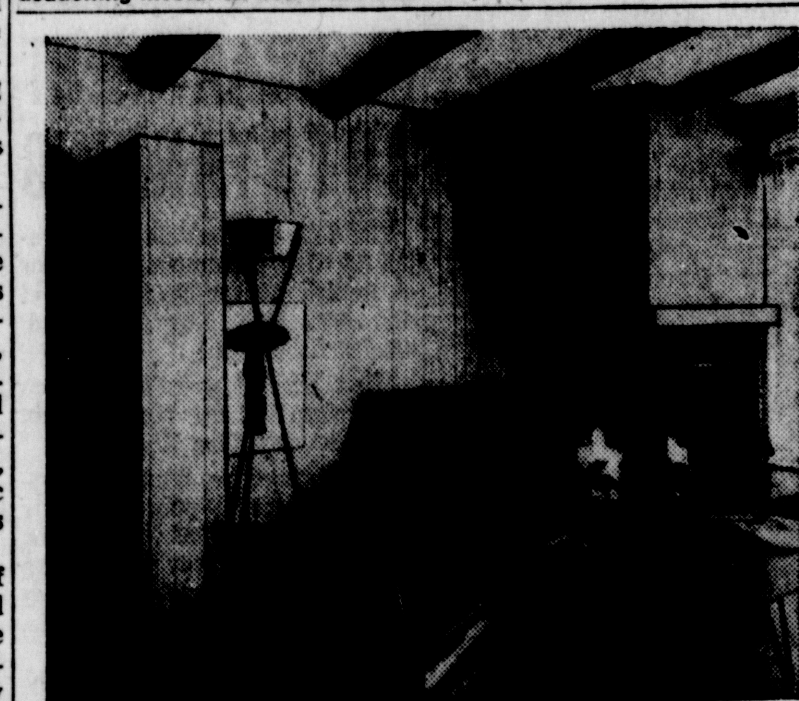

Some are manufactured with channels for wiring and space for sockets permitting an option in lighting methods. Being 3-dimensional, they give a special allure — lift as well as light to walls.

The varied materials employed in sconces provide appealing textural contrasts. The range of substances used is as extensive as the design selection. Wood, gilded or antiqued, wrought iron, brass, tile and gilded bronze are most commonly used metals. Majolica, faience and other ceramic forms are popular as well as the classic crystal.

Italy has been the chief source of small handcrafted items such as sconces since time immemorial. Medieval and Renaissance sconces made in Italy are still seen in antique shops as well as museums.

NOISE BETWEEN ROOMS CAN BE REDUCED with this auxiliary wall which can be installed next to the present wall. A special sound-deadening insulation board controls flow of sounds.

LASTING BEAUTY PLUS LOW MAINTENANCE cost is feature of prefinished hardboard paneling used to refinish this smartly casual room. Panels are scuff-resistant and easily cleaned with a damp cloth.

ADD NEW COLOR TO BEDROOMS WITH CURTAINS

How does your boy's or girl's day begin? With a sunny look in pretty curtains, bright spreads, etc.? Or, are their rooms for slumber only, suffering from a winter hangover? Just as their wardrobes change from dark woollens to light silks and cottons, their bedrooms will benefit by following the mood of the season.

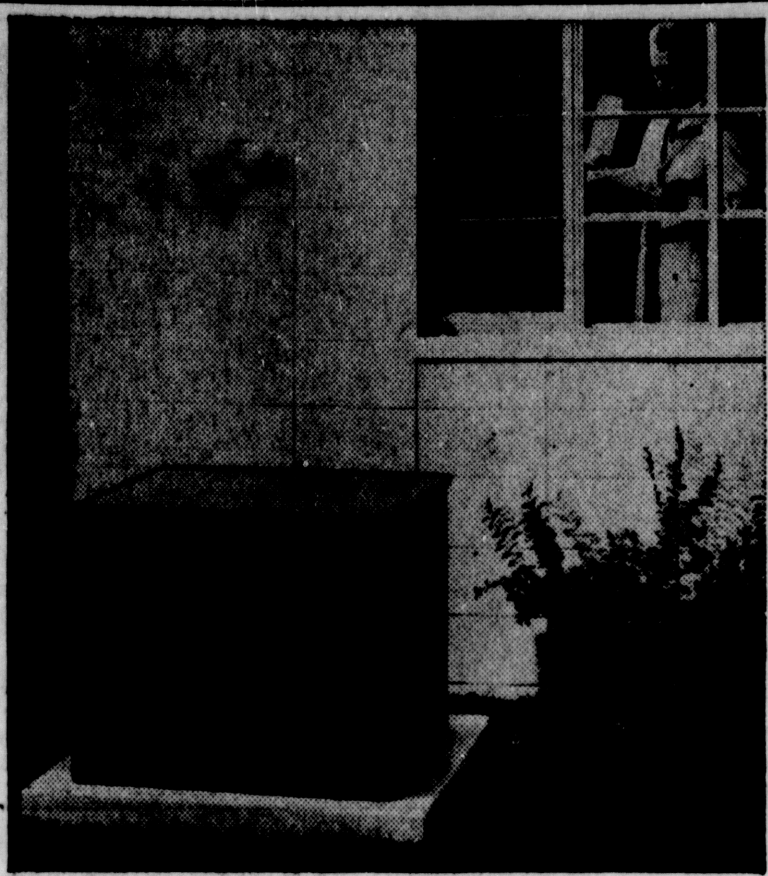

Decorative and fresh-looking re-dos are easy to achieve with a new selection of ready-made ensembles by Morgan-Jones, which run the gamut from sophisticated tailored designs of textured fabrics for boys to the feminine look in a lovely printed toile motif for girls. The bedroom, of all rooms in the house, is dependent upon pretty fabrics.

This retreat calls for color, window flourishes and an attractively dressed bed. And with the decorative go-togethers (bedspreads, coverlets, dust ruffles, cafe curtains or full draperies) in this collection, you'll find the project of furnishing a bedroom is about as easy and foolproof as can be. And before you know it, you'll have a bedroom with a look of "done-by-a-decorator" elegance!

COLOR SETS MOOD

Since color sets a room's mood, it's important to decide on your color scheme before you start out on your shopping spree. If the room is limited in size, consider a monochromatic color scheme, in which the sensitive use of color will unite the entire room. If it's a large room, perhaps you will want the bright color excitement of a contrasting color scheme which will afford a very special vitality and personality.

To be sure the bedspread you purchase is the correct size,

ONE THERMOSTAT CONTROLS BOTH air conditioning and heating, with a heat pump at work to provide year-round comfort. System shown here is powered by an outdoor unit that is unobtrusive and can be neatly located near the home.

PATIO IS PART OF HOME LIVING

Elegance, style and comfort are the rule in casual furniture this spring and summer.

The patio or terrace is more than just a spot to soak up sun these days. It is part of the home and is furnished accordingly.

take along measurements for both top and amount of overhang you want. This is particularly important for bedspreads, tailored with a box-like fit. Happily, the new collection comes in a variety of sizes to fit twin, double, queen and king-size beds. If you decide on a quilted bedspread, check on the fiberfill to make sure it is made of quality polyester.

Predicted for the Play Pen Set: Brother and sister duets in diaper sets and play-clothes. Sometimes only the color differs; sometimes the addition of ruffles denotes the feminine attire.

CARPETS CUT HOUSE NOISES

If you have youngsters or teen-agers in your home, you have noise. One sure way to cut down on the sounds from just everyday living is to install carpeting. Carpeting is also very effective in reducing the seepage of loud sounds, such as those from television programs your children will be watching, to other parts of the house. And if an ample foam rubber pad is used under the carpeting, it will be a big asset in reducing noise to acceptable levels.

Besides, carpeting can hide a multitude of sins. It covers worn, scuffed or warped spots and eliminates the chore of washing and waxing floors.

Like any other home improvement material, picking the right carpeting can save you time, work and money.

There are different types of carpeting for different jobs. For example with youngsters in the home, it is wise to choose a carpet that wears exceptionally well. Some carpets are easier to care for than others. Your carpet salesman can help you select the carpet best suited to the job you want it to do.

Almost all carpets need an underlay of some sort for additional durability and to preserve the life of the carpet. Latex foam rubber underlays are highly recommended for this purpose. They also provide a soft resilient cushioning for a walking-on-air feeling.

Consider the location and type of floor too. If the floors are below grade both carpets and padding must resist moisture and mildew. Any of the man-made fibers and foam rubber paddings are suitable for these conditions.

On hard floors like concrete, use an extra resilient padding and heavy carpeting. This is a particularly good way to treat a basement floor, because it is much easier than setting tiles. Also it makes the floor warmer and more comfortable for children to play on.

Canopy Bed Adds Glamorous Decor

Frilly, feminine, fulfillment... these three words might describe the most satisfying type of environment for the typical American woman, and this kind of emphasis can find special fruition in her bedroom.

Such a bedroom should provide that truly feminine place of escape, harmoniously enclosing her in swags of flowered silk or chintz.

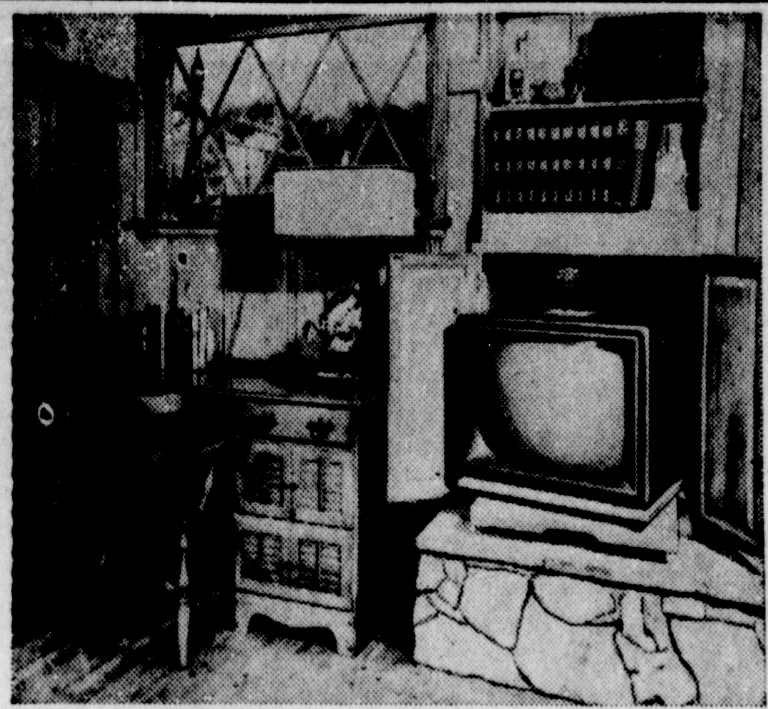

Originally, the canopy was a variant of the revered domical shape, which symbolized a divine and royal presence, and probably derived from the cosmic audience tend of the Achaemenid kings of Persia. Canopies were used by Roman and Byzantine emperors in their state appearances as supreme beings and passed into the middle ages as a symbol of the divine presence.

PREPARE FOR NEW SEASON OF VANDALISM

By G. K. HODENFIELD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unofficial "vandalism season" begins this week, an April-through-November period highlighted by the smashing of school windows.

The malicious destruction of school property costs local taxpayers millions of dollars a year. The toll in New York City for the 1963-64 school year was $1,254,989. In Chicago it was $863,025. In Boston it was $189,700.

ENTERTAINMENT CENTER BUILT IN to the wall of a room provides space for the television set, with storage space above for books, souvenirs and trophies. The TV set can be shut away when not in use, leaving shelves handy to the desk. Knotty grade Ponderosa pine paneling used for walls as well as built-ins help to unify the room.

On another basis, says the report of a national survey by the Baltimore, Md., public schools, the nation's worst record may be in Richmond, Va.

$2.76 PER PUPIL

However, this may reflect more on the thoroughness of some of the reports than on Virginia's capital.

Richmond reported vandalism damage of $122,668, less than one-tenth of New York's, but it represents a cost of $2.76 for each pupil enrolled.

Other per-pupil costs were $1.20 in New York City, $1.61 in Chicago and $2 in Boston.

At the other end of the scale, Omaha, Neb., and El Paso, Tex., reported a per-pupil cost of vandalism of only three cents. The total dollar-cost of vandalism was reported as $1,750 in Omaha, and $1,520 in El Paso.

However, 83 per cent of Richmond's reported toll was due to arson. There was damage of slightly more than $100,000 to one school alone, all of which was recovered by insurance.

The balance of the loss in Richmond came from larcenies and window breakage. Neither El Paso or Omaha reported any larcenies and Omaha, in fact, said all its $1,750 damage was in window breakage.

On the other hand, Atlanta, Ga., reported a $17,266 loss from arson, but nothing for window breakage or any other reason.

Whatever the thoroughness of the reports, the 32 cities responding to the questionnaire reported vandalism damage of $3.7 million, of which $2.5 million was in broken windows.

A separate report issued by the Boston public schools put the cost of vandalism in these terms:

"The million dollars spent in the past eight years could have paid for the beautiful John F. Kennedy School, completely

Socialite Promises To Relieve Wealthy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "President Johnson is taking care of the poor. Well, I'm going to take care of the rich," Mrs. Carling L. Dinkler Jr., an Atlanta, Ga., socialite, said.

She says she has undertaken a personal program to alleviate the woes of having money — a new yacht club in Miami so glamorous the chrome-plated hinges are being gold plated so they won't clash with the golden plumbing.

furnished and ready for occupancy.

"The structure has 19 classrooms, two kindergartens, woodworking shop, sewing room, assembly hall, gymnasium, playground, medical and dental rooms, and office and conference rooms."

The Boston report listed vandalism damage in the city at $160,000 last year — compared with the Baltimore report of $189,700 — and said that "could have paid for any one of such items as 160,000 elementary workbooks, 53,000 textbooks, 400 sound projectors, 525 educational television sets, or 1,230 tape recorders."

The Boston survey also said: "As a general rule, damage to school property occurs when schools are not in session."

Combating school vandalism is a complex problem with no easy answers, the Boston report indicated. Vandalism insurance is not practical because the premiums are too high.

Screens and grilles to protect windows from thrown objects should be used only with devices that permit them to be opened easily in case of fire, the report said.

Educational programs might be helpful, but some officials hesitate "for fear of inciting even greater and more frequent assaults on the schools."

SOFT LEATHER ADDS ROMANCE TO FURNITURE

For the American family, romance begins at home this spring with the new leather furnishings. They are so soft in texture, so light in color and so easy to care for, you're bound to fall in love with them.

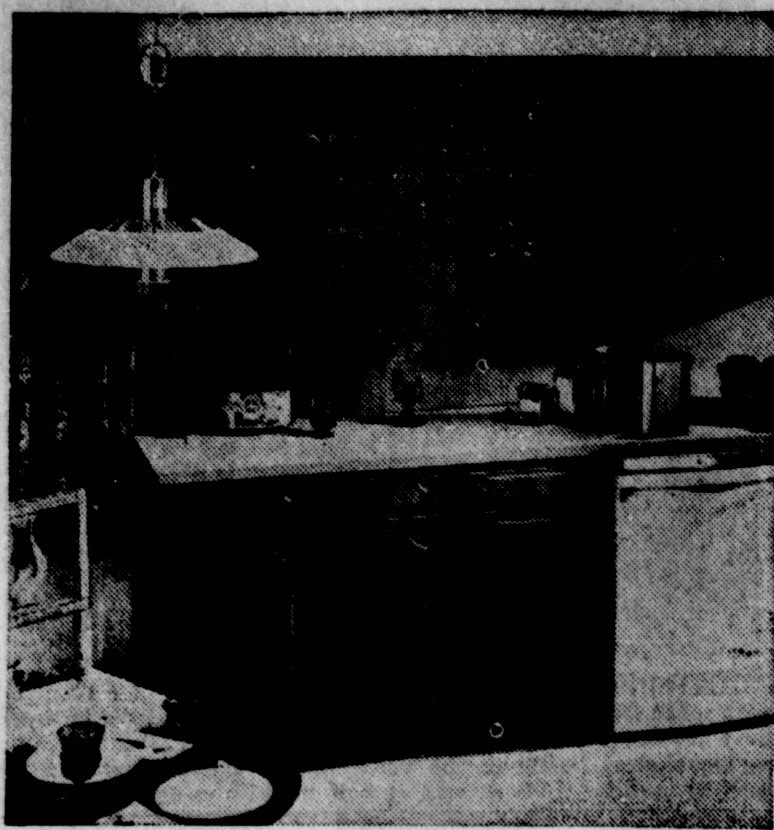

With leading interior designers turning their attention to the new leathers for coordinated room interiors, homemakers can now find an unusually wide selection of leather upholstered furniture. And for the first time, a super palette of hundreds of colors are available offering luxurious leather furniture for every taste.

For example, the young homemaker with a contemporary decor in mind will find such exciting new colors as hot pinks, cool turquoise or grassy greens that set off handsome hand-rubbed wood frames. Tradition-minded? There are new jet blacks in mirror polished finishes, soft antiqued finishes or delicately etched leathers that make a wingback chair the center of a tastefully refurbished living room or den.

MODERN LEATHER

The marriage of modern chemistry with the ancient art of leather tanning has produced brand new leathers that snap back to their original shape when you raise from your chair. New finishes help leather shed water like a duck . . . in fact a damp cloth is the only cleaning tool you need when Junior spills something on your new leather dining chairs.

If your problem is decorating his room . . . relax, let leather do it. There's nothing that goes together better than a man and leather. In den or study, or even just his favorite corner of the living room, a traditional leather armchair keeps him happy and close to the fireside. If you add a matching leather ottoman, it's double delight.

ODD CHAIR IDEAS

Need an odd chair? How about a wide armless chair covered in a colorful shade with tufting where the back becomes the seat? Or a leather sling chair? One of leather's positive advantages is its ability to be draped, tucked, quilted or otherwise worked into designs . . . all without surrendering its essential character.

A new twist on an old favorite is the cocktail end or lamp table inlaid with leather in geometric shapes. In place of the traditional green, black or brown, these table tops now glow in bright shades of coral, blue and gold or reflect subtle tones such as ivory, bronze-green and taupe. You can also add a note of distinction to your living room or den with a tall columnar or jug-shaped lamp of rich leather.

No matter how leather is used in your home . . . whether for one panel or a group of pieces . . . you'll find the new

NEW CARPETS ARE BRIGHTER

Brighter colors, rougher textures, and more exciting patterns — that is the spring fashion story for carpets in a nutshell.

Colors will not only be brighter, but there will be more of them. Greens, golds, and blues will continue to be the top fashion shades — a far cry from the mundane beige that reigned supreme a few years ago.

The smooth textured, velvet surfaced carpet is also out of style. Instead, rough textured twists, loops, shags, and sculptured surfaces are the thing. Shaggy carpets zoomed to popularity in California, and are now sweeping the rest of the country.

More patterns are available, making it easier to coordinate furniture with floor coverings. Where Early American patterns used to be the only style when upholstery leathers resistant to scuffs and scratches and as easily cleaned as a wipe with a soapy cloth. And the longer you own it, the finer the patina it takes on . . . and the deeper your love grows for it.

CHANGE DECOR IN PLAYROOM WITH CUTOUTS

A new delightful do-it-yourself decorating idea that can be used in nursery, playroom or den is a set of jumbo-size circus animal wallpaper cutouts.

A set consists of enough decorations to cover an area 100-foot square for there are seven imish animals, a clown, 16's of stars, circles and balls as well as yards and yards of candy striped tent poles and canopies.

To mount the cutouts, you first trim them along the outside lines. Then try several arrangements before you paste them down, so that the finished design will be pleasing to you. Next place all the cutouts face down on a table with plain wrapping paper under them (do not use newspaper) and brush with the paste that is supplied.

Now, place the cutouts on the wall and gently roll out the air bubbles, always working from the center to the outer edge. Use a towel or a rolling pin covered with a soft dish towel. If you feel you might want to remove the cutouts from the wall at some later date, we suggest you apply them with rubber cement instead of paste.

you could match furniture and rugs, now there are many Spanish, Mediterranean, French, and other patterns available.

Synthetic fibers such as nylon and acrylics now account for over half the carpets made. This gives new importance to carpet underpadding, because you must have a very resilient padding such as the waffled latex foam rubber pads if carpets made of synthetics are to feel plush underfoot. While the synthetics are very durable and have lovely colors, they are apt to be hard without a foam rubber pad.

Disposals Alter Family Habits

"Would you take out the garbage now?" is a familiar request which may not be heard in a few years. In 1965, alone 1,400,000 garbage disposers were manufactured in the United States. If sales continue to increase as rapidly as in the past, the garbage can may become a quaint, useless antique.

During the last few years the disposer has come to be regarded as a necessity in good homemaking. And as one official of the Waste King Corporation noted, "Some housewives tell us they'd give up almost any other convenience before they'd be without their disposer."

The first significant acceptance of the disposer did not occur until 1951. Before that units were considered costly, and most installations were in expensive custom homes.

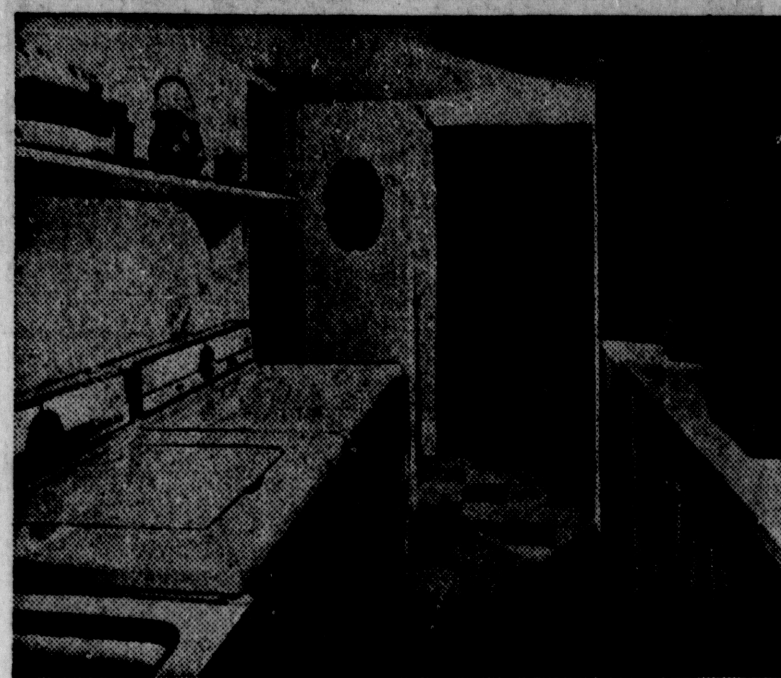

WALLCOVERING IS IMPORTANT

Planning to give your guest bedroom a new look? Or are you considering redecorating the family bath? If so, take your time in choosing the right wallcovering for your room.

A well chosen wall fabric can create decided changes in your redecorated room. Your room can be made to appear larger or smaller, rich, sporty or even dull as a result of a particular texture or color. And when you stop to think that a wall covering will give up to 15 years of service, you begin to realize how valuable this decorative art is and how important that you choose the right texture, color and design for each room.

The cutouts can then be removed from the wall without tearing them and/or the wallpaper or walls.

For variation paste cutouts on corrugated cardboard (any shipping carton from your local grocery will do). With this arrangement, the cutouts can be mounted on your walls with pins or small tacks for easy removal and rearrangement.

PROPER PLANNING CAN TURN unused space into a work-saving home laundry center. Here, a corridor between the garage and bathroom has become an efficient area for washday chores.

Today's wallcoverings have been improved tremendously in the past few years. Whether machine-printed or, the more expensive, hand-screened, most of them are washable. Old papers used water-based inks, which made colors run. Today mild soap and sponge or a specially treated dry clean sponge can easily remove all of the collected films and scuff marks. Liner paper is used under wallcovering where walls are severely damaged. Wall coverings made of canvas are marvelous for covering ordinary cracks and blemishes, and often plain or textured canvas is used for ceiling repair. Avoid use of metallic wallcovering on bleached walls; cracks will show.

Vinyls are durable, washable and ideal for children's rooms, bathrooms and kitchens. Ask to see the fabulous embossed designs on vinyls, those with the actual feel and appearance of

LIGHTS CREATE NEEDED TOUCH

Lighting has much to do about creating an atmosphere. The addition of just one lighting fixture can change the looks of an interior and add freshness to an otherwise drab area of a room. Lighting fixtures are no longer a once-in-a-lifetime purchase.

Today, for the first time, any homeowner may buy beautifully designed and well-made fixtures for inside or outside the home at prices planned to suit everyone's purse. With a relatively small expenditure, new lighting ideas may be incorporated into the home each time it is redecorated, or an interior area is rearranged.

In the new collection of fixtures more stress has been placed on decorative designs and on designs that will fit into more than one area of the home.

There has been an increase in the number of colored glass pendants used as fixtures. Not only do they give good lighting, but may be used in many areas.

Now, too, is an increase in the number of correlated fixtures such as chandeliers with matching wall bracket and ceiling light.

NOSTALGIC TV SUNDAY NIGHT ON MACK HOUR

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It was about 30 years ago that "Major Bowes' Amateur Hour," just a local radio program on New York City's WHN became a Thursday night network program — and promptly turned into a national rage.

CBS' "Original Amateur Hour," with Ted Mack as host, is the legitimate television child of the old Bowes radio show. Sunday night it devoted its time to an anniversary salute to the time-honored entertainment form.

Bits of old newsreel film showed us a few hapless contestants whose show biz careers fortunately were nipped in the bud. There was also a recording of the radio debut of "The Hoboken Four," one of whose members, named Frank Sinatra, went on to other pastures. 10,000 ACTS:

Over the years, narrator Ron Cochran said, Bowes' staff auditioned almost a million acts all over the country to present about 18,000 on the air. At one time the radio show had a rating of 46.7 — meaning that almost half the radio sets in the nation were tuned to the program. The second half of the salute to amateur shows will be seen next Sunday and if it contains material half as interesting as the first one, it is well worth a look.

NEW CBS SHOW

When NBC a few months back presented a program called "NBC Follies of 1965," it was called a "sneak preview." The program, which starred Steve Lawrence, did not impress NBC enough to get on its fall schedule. But CBS liked what it saw.

Lawrence will star in a new variety hour next season on Monday nights, 10-11 p.m., CBS announced.

SAYS KIDNAPER IS "SICK" MAN

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Chattanooga physician said Monday he will appeal to federal authorities to treat his kidnaper as a sick man, not as a criminal.

Dr. Robert G. Demos, said James Pickens Davis Jr., 37, was "no criminal. He is a sick man, a really sick man."

Police said Davis robbed a branch bank of more than $8,000 Friday, evaded police gunfire, took refuge in the Demos home and held four members of the family hostage for two hours. Then he fled, taking Dr. Demos with him at gunpoint as a hostage on a 150-mile high speed

SAYS BILL ON CABLE TV WILL 'REST IN PEACE'

By JACK L. LYNCH
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill to bring community television antenna systems under state regulation is dead, the chairman of the House committee on public utilities said today.

"As far as I am concerned it will rest in peace in the committee," said the chairman, Rep. Charles J. Mills, D-Westmoreland.

Mills made the comment as both houses of the General Assembly planned light working sessions so they could travel in a body to the Liberty Bell Race Track in Philadelphia as guests of the track this evening.

Only a few matters were handled Monday in brief meetings. They included House passage of bills to assure municipalities greater state aid for operation of sewage treatment plants and to permit labor unions to make direct political contributions.

LETTERS OPPOSED

Mills said he has had only eight letters on the Community Antenna Television Bill, which was sponsored by Rep. George Heffner, R-Schuylkill.

"All of the letters are in opposition; none ask me to let the bill out of committee," said

Mills, adding: Heffner has asked the Public Utility Commission to reconsider its 3-2 decision of last April against assuming rate and licensing control over the antenna companies which feed television signals to weak reception areas.

Heffner said he plans to tack a rider on any public utility bill that comes to the floor if Mills fails to act on his plan.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

Highlights of Monday's session:

Labor unions — there was no debate as the House passed 117-85 the measure which would allow labor unions to make direct political contributions. Six Republicans joined 111 Democrats in sending the measure to the Senate, where it probably will have difficulty. All of the dissenting house votes were cast by Republicans.

Municipal sewage—unanimous House approval was given a bill that would require the state to pay annually a flat 2 per cent of the construction costs of municipal sewage treatment plants. Present law permits payments below the 2 per cent ceiling. The new bill would cost the state an estimated $280,000 the first year.

Cigarettes — the House received a bill that would require all cigarettes sold in Pennsylvania to be labeled "injurious to health."

Boys Leave Bomb In Patrol Wagon

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police arrested 15 youths and confiscated a homemade bomb after breaking up a mob of unruly youths on a Northeast Philadelphia street corner Monday night.

The bomb—a 2½-inch-high tin filled with firecracker powder and topped with a cigarette light-wick for a fuse—was found on the floor of the patrol wagon taking the youths to the police station, police reported.

Police said they didn't know what the youths planned to do with the bomb.

Some 25 other youths fled on foot or in cars as police approached the corner. Those arrested will be arraigned today as disorderly persons.

Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo of Detroit following the civil rights march in Alabama last week.

McClure—both houses unanimously adopted resolutions mourning the death of John J. McClure of Chester, a prominent Republican leader and a former state Senator.

Civil service — during the weekly "happy hour" period in the house, which serves as a forum for political attacks, Rep. Thomas J. Foerster, D-Allegheny, accused the Scranton Administration of "gross and rank injustice" in using the 1963 Civil Service Act to fire more than 400 state jobholders.

NEW ATTACK ON CIVIL SERVICE IN THIS STATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Labeling it the "final execution of Little Joe," House Democrats continue to hammer away at the Scranton Administration's civil service program.

"Gov. Scranton has certainly killed Little Joe in the commonwealth and he used as his executioner the 1963 Civil Service Reform Act," Rep. Thomas J. Foerster, D-Allegheny, declared Monday.

"Little Joe" is Foerster's favorite term in describing the rank-and-file state employees, such as janitors and dishwashers, still not covered by civil service.

House Republicans answered the latest Democratic blast with a challenge to come forth with some proposed changes in the present civil service law.

IMMEDIATE RESPONSE

Joining Foerster were Reps. Eugene Gelfand, D - Philadelphia, and H. Beryl Klein, D-Beaver, who called the Scranton civil service program a "sham with nothing but a lot of shilly-shallying."

The attack brought immediate response from Rep. George W. Heffner, R-Schuylkill, one of the chief sponsors of the 1963 act, who reminded House Democrats that they fired a one-armed veteran this year from his job as a messenger.

"This one-armed man was with the House through both Democratic and Republican control, but you saw fit to fire him," Heffner said. "Now he works for the Senate."

Heffner's reference was the dismissal several weeks ago of John F. Wine of York, a messenger. Wine was immediately hired by the republican controlled Senate.

TWO BILLS IN

Foerster kicked off the debate by criticizing the administration for the dismissal of Henry Maletta, a field auditor in the Department of Revenue.

Foerster already has introduced two bills — one the so-called "Little Joe" bill that would provide civil service coverage to all state employees, and the other which would return the power of classification to the Civil Service Commission. The present act gives the governor's office the final say in reclassification.

Presently there are about 47,000 state employees under civil service of the total 85,000 state employees.

PLUNGES TO DEATH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Peter Bulkey, 54, of (129 Springfield Rd.) Upper Darby, a machinist at the Budd Co., died today when he fell from the 8th floor of Jefferson Hospital, authorities said. Bulkey, who was found on the 5th floor roof by an attendant, was a patient.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — A 51-year-old woman who was burned in a fire in her home died Monday in Lancaster Hospital. Mrs. Helen Burley suffered second and third degree burns over 50 per cent of her body after her cigarette set fire to a mattress in her bedroom on March 13, firemen said.

KLAN LEADERS ASK MEETING AFTER ATTACK

By DON CARSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ku Klux Klan leaders have asked for a face-to-face meeting with President Johnson following his denunciation of the organization as "hooded bigots."

There was no immediate comment from the President. A White House spokesman said the request made in a telegram sent by Georgia Grand Dragon Calvin F. Craig and Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton Jr. had been received and routinely referred to Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

Johnson attacked the Klan Friday when he announced the arrest of four Alabama members in the night-riding slaying of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, 39, of Detroit, a white civil rights worker. She was shot on a lonely stretch of highway near Selma.

CALLS FOR PROBE

The President called for a congressional investigation and warned klansmen to quit and "return to a decent society — before it is too late."

Declared Johnson: "We will not be intimidated by the terrorists of the Ku Klux Klan any more than by the terrorists of the Viet Cong."

The Klan leaders said, however, they hoped to talk with the President about more than just that criticism.

This was their telegram: "Representing the true feelings of millions of Americans, we desire personally to confer with you concerning your statement about the Ku Klux Klan, selection of Supreme Court judges, rising crime rate, obscene literature flooding America, sex pervers and Communist agents within our government."

WANT CONSIDERATION

"We pray that you will acknowledge our constitutional right to petition you."

Craig told newsmen in Atlanta it would be unfair of the President to ignore them since he has talked personally with civil rights leaders.

This spring a close alliance between inner and outer garments is more than ever vital. New fashions — so soft, slender and body-conscious — lose definition without harmonious under-scoring. Gleaned from new corsetry and lingerie collections, here's a sampling of underfashions that complement innovations in outerfashions:

The presidential request for a probe picked up Republican backing during the weekend. It came from Sens. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania plus 21 members of the House.

Youth Opportunity Centers Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government plans to establish three youth opportunity centers in North, South, and downtown Philadelphia, in line with the anti-poverty program, says Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Clark released a preview of the plans Monday. He said the three centers, to be operated by the Philadelphia Community Action Program, would interview, counsel, and test young persons from 16 to 21, and would place them in jobs or refer them to training programs.

The services of doctors, dentists, psychologists and psychiatrists will be available at 12 neighborhood centers attached to the program, he said.

Philadelphia thus becomes the 79th city selected for Youth opportunity centers. A total of 200 centers in 105 cities is planned.

Sure there's a difference between the luxury '65 Chevrolet and expensive cars

You can put most of it in your savings account

Maybe you've only seen them on the street so far. If so, come on in and see a Jet-smooth '65 Chevrolet right in our showroom. We think you'll do a double-take when you get up close enough for a look at that price sticker. Most people do. Because the major difference between this one and cars that cost quite a bit more is simply—price.

Take room, for example. Chevrolet has more of it than many expensive cars do. You get extra foot room with the new frame and forward engine design. And those handsome curved side windows are one reason for all of the extra shoulder room, front and rear.

And there's plenty of luxury. The smartly functional instrument panel is easy to read, puts everything at your fingertips as well. Color-keyed interiors feature tastefully rich fabrics and vinyls, foam-cushioned seating and plush deep-twist carpeting. And even the low-cost Bel Airs and Biscaynes include these luxury touches.

There's a great choice of power, from Chevrolet's economical, spirited

140-hp Turbo-Thrift Six on up. And that famous Jet-smooth ride is even better this year. A new Full Coil suspension, new wider tread and over 700 sound and shock absorbers work together to give you the feeling there's a foot of air between you and the road.

You can tailor the car exactly to your taste, too. Our catalog lists nearly 200 ways to do that—and our salesmen can show you how easily your present car and realistic monthly payments will have you driving a beautiful '65 Chevrolet nearly as quickly as you've read this message.
